

Editorial Volume 6, Issue 5. We reached the 500k in Views!!!

Authors: María Fernanda Sandoval
Submitted: 2. June 2019
Published: 3. June 2019
Volume: 6
Issue: 5
Affiliation: IASHA e.V., Freiburg, Germany
Languages: English
Keywords: Editorial, Josha Journal, 2019
Categories: News and Views
DOI: 10.17160/josha.6.5.568

Abstract:

With this editorial, we would like to celebrate with you that we have reached 500k views in our journal. Without your informative contribution and your interest in sharing knowledge with the world, Josha would have not achieved so much exile in such a short time. From our offices, we thank you and promise to continue to work to connect more authors around the world and continue to share important knowledge, because the knowledge that is not communicated is wasted knowledge. Thank you very much!

JOSHA

josha.org

Journal of Science, Humanities and Arts

JOSHA is a service that helps scholars, researchers, and students discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content

JOSHA - Journal of Science Humanities and Arts Editorial Volume 6 Issue 5

With this editorial, we would like to celebrate with you that we have reached 500k views in our journal. With your informative contribution and your interest in sharing knowledge with the world, Josha has achieved so much in such a short time. From our offices, we thank you and promise to continue to work to connect more authors around the world and continue to share important knowledge, because the knowledge that is not communicated is wasted knowledge.

In another framework of ideas, we would like to remind you that you can immediately submit your work to participate in our Demetrios Prizes 2019. This time we are giving you again the opportunity to participate, to show to the world your researches and Ideas, and to win 500Euros. Follow the link of the title “DEMETRIOS PRIZE 2019” to see and get more information about this wonderful idea to promote and support the talent of young Students all around the world. The theses should be submitted by mail to admin@josha-archive.org until June 15, 2019.

Concerning this last issue, a total of 5 articles belonging to the areas of medicine, architecture and design, music, visual arts, and politics were published in May.

VISUAL ARTS, ARCHITECTURE, AND DESIGN

“MULTIMEDIA STUDIOS. Architectural Design Principles.” Was presented by Bujar Bajçinovci from Kosovo. His book is originally and especially dedicated to the students of the Architecture Department at the University of Prishtina for Educational, and Not-for-profit purposes. The monograph incorporates contemporary knowledge of the Multimedia Studios - Architectural Design Principles, followed by research data, discussion, extracts, quotes and citations by various authors, as well as official government publications as the academic comparative references.

MEDICINE & BIOLOGIE

„Recent developments and future directions in hematopoietic stem cell transplantation and cellular therapy.” is an article written by Tobias Wertheimer from Germany and concerns to the 45th Annual Meeting of the European Society for Blood and Marrow Transplantation 2019 from March 23 to 27 2019 that was held in Frankfurt, Germany. Along with the common topics of allogeneic hematopoietic stem cell transplantation (alloHSCT) such as improvements in conditioning regimens, treatment of graft-versus-host disease (GvHD) and reducing the risk of malignant relapse, a particular emphasis of the meeting was put on the rapidly expanding field of chimeric antigen receptor T cells (CAR T cells). The article poses a personal selection of recent developments covered at the meeting.

MUSIC

„When science meets music. Ptérodactyle and Marie Brendle” by Marie Brendle is a presentation of the quintet « Ptérodactyle », founded by Dr. med. Marie Brendle, a young medical doctor who started a carrier in music, making a wonderful mix of Sciences and Arts. Born in the European generation, this multilingual french woman studied in Germany, France, and Argentina. Her life demonstrates the importance of multidisciplinary and international experience. Ready for the flight?

SOCIAL & LAW

„Autonomous Driving - Overview of the Current Legal Framework” presented by Hannah Dittmers from Germany, The topic of driving a car has typically focused on a person driving. The driver of a vehicle was and – to a large extent still is – required to possess the power to control all of the car’s functions. Recent technological and legal developments in the field of autonomous driving, however, demonstrate that the driver-centered principle in road traffic is beginning to lose relevance and, in the future, may become the exception or eventually disappear entirely. “More Than Welcome: A Berlin Call for University Ethics” is another article in this field, written by Susanne Baer and it is about the democracy world at the Universities. She says democracy is under attack, as are human rights outside and inside the academy, and scholars are at risk. The keynote proposes ethics that calls on universities to truly welcome these scholars, with more than a benevolent gesture. Instead, the university must be the space for a truly cosmopolitan “education” via exchange among equals – which adds Alexander and Caroline to Wilhelm von Humboldt.

We are happy to carry on a successful way with all your support and hope to have a wonderful Sommer overflowing with endless interesting articles from all over the world. The Editorial Board and everybody in JOSHA would like to thank our readers and authors for supporting this project.

We wish all our readers a joyful reading experience at JOSHA.

Table of content: <http://josha-journal.org/en/issues>

Maria Fernanda Sandoval on behalf of the JOSHA Team